2. The reasons assigned are:—

(a) for (i) — Arts 73 & 74 relate to appointments carrying pay not less than Rs 100. ~~The rule is one relating~~ Article 75 refers to those on pay less than Rs 100. Reference to this ~~is also to be necessary~~ article is also applicable ~~is Art 75~~.

(b) for ii — The object of the special rules is to give the temporary employes the status of a substantive officer for the purpose of calculating acting allowances. In this case they will be treated as officers with a permanent appointment and they come under Articles 70 & 75.

When this is done the proviso at the end of clause 2 becomes superfluous as the temporary officer will then draw emoluments of the temporary appointment on which he is given a lien together with such acting allowance as is admissible to him under Art 70 & 75.

NOTE—Contn. sheet

Submitted to His Highness.

At the instance of the Comptroller a new Appendix A.A. was introduced into the Mysore Service Regulations by A & C No. 25 dated the 19th August 1915 for regulating the acting and leave allowances of temporary employes in the P.W., Railway and Electrical Depts, whose appointments continue for fairly long periods. [S & A File no. 31—4].

The Comptroller points out that the proper articles of the M.S.R. are not quoted in some places in these rules and suggests that this defect may be remedied.

A draft A & C slip has accordingly been proposed by the Fin. Deptt involving a few verbal alterations.

This has been agreed to by the members of council and myself and may graciously be approved.

Sir,

Acting allowance Rules applicable to Temporary appointments in the Public Works Department, Railways and Electrical Departments

I have the honour to state that Rules II (1) and (2) introduced by correction slip No.25 to the Mysore Service Regulations dated the 19th August 1915 require some alteration. The Articles 73 and 74 now quoted in Rule II (1) refer only to appointments, the pay of which is not less than Rs.100/-. The article applicable to appointments on less than Rs.100/- is 75, and reference to this article in Rule II (1) is necessary.

2. The object of Rule II (2) is to treat, temporary officers, for the purpose of calculating their acting -- allowances when transferred to act in one temporary -- appointment from another, as if they had held substanti appointments before such transfer, and the rules to be applied are accordingly Articles 70 and 75 and not 73 ar 74. If this alteration is made , the proviso at the end of the rule as it now stands is unnecessary. As the -- rule now stands, officers cannot be allowed any acting allowances when appointed to act in higher appointments, as half the pay of such appointments will, in most cases,
